<sup>4</sup> Based on a large data base of women in need after assessment. PSS programs have been carried out in the last 2 years. 2/3 of the women's children are enrolled in school which usually leaves the women with 1.5 children on average. The number of children /women selected depends on the number of children per family and age and time of the activities. In winter, when most children are in school, if the activities are planned during the week the number of children is lower than when activities are planned during the weekend. Overall, in the summer due to school holidays, there are more children attending the activities. 1.5 children is the average.

<sup>5</sup> Parenting programmes focus on coping strategies for parents, child development, and positive discipline and providing support to children with psychosocial needs, mothers support groups etc.

<sup>6</sup> Based on careful selection and visibility study

Assumptions

1. In Jordan and Lebanon no new occurrence of large influx of refugees crossing borders. In Syria, no mass displacement occurs beyond capacity to respond.
2. Syrian refugees are not moving back to Syria in large numbers from Jordan and Lebanon.
3. Political situation remains relatively stable.
4. Economic situation remains stable in all three countries. No large currency fluctuations, markets are well stocked and functioning to carry out program implementation and the resources needed for project implementation (such as assistive devices, hearing aids and glasses, medication) are available at a reasonable price in the local market.
5. Local stakeholders are supportive, responding and participating in the projects.
6. Beneficiaries are willing to participate in projects and are not displaced outside of the project catchment area.
7. Government relations with ministries and authorities are regularly maintained to obtain necessary project permissions and approvals and Governments grant project approvals/ necessary permissions in a timely manner.
8. Government authorities allow the implementation of proposed activities in refugee camps (Azraq, Za'atari).
9. Host government policies remain stable regarding the refugee response; i.e. expected permits for refugees are provided and employment opportunities created.
10. Appropriate staff can be hired and retained and partners identified.
11. Staff continue to have access to project catchment areas to carry out planned activities; access to affected persons is not interrupted (road travel is smooth, travel within the countries is not restricted).
12. For Cash for Rent (CFR) recipients, landlords are cooperative; i.e. they do not take advantage of beneficiaries, and/or exacerbate protection concerns of population targeted with assistance.
13. Funds for the project are received on time in order for project implementation to meet its fixed deadlines.
