Section 2: Narrative Summary

Background

May 31st: tropical depression 2-e is reclassified as Tropical Storm Amanda. In 3 hours, 10% of the average annual rainfall had hit El Salvador. On Sunday the 1st of June, El Salvador's government declared a Red Alert.

According to official data, 18 people lost their lives and 6 persons are missing, while 7,225 people were evacuated to 154 shelters around the country. Additionally, over 900 houses were either destroyed or suffered serious damages, and a total of 24,974 families were affected. Transport and WASH structure is heavily damaged, with 10 main roads totally or partially damaged. Also there is reported damage to one important water pipeline for San Salvador. Also reported are collapsed bridges, water and electricity structures, vehicles, and cuts in people's access to health and food services. Considering the small size of the country, damage was reported almost in all the 14 departments. The Agriculture Chamber has reported losses of around 5,740 hectares of crops. This, plus the current weak basic food pipeline and restrictions on commerce between borders due to COVID-19, has increased food insecurity.

Humanitarian Needs

The sudden onset of the Tropical Storm plus the current restrictions due to the COVID-19 have contributed to the high impact of this event. Soil saturation is high in the whole country (see figure 1) resulting in severe damage of crops and infrastructure at a time when the rainy season had just begun. Consequently, families are further deprived of food and income sources to face the economic consequences of both events.

In regards to emergency shelters, many of them are improvised and can exponentially increase the cases of COVID19. Even the government has no appropriate facilities and some of the shelters even combined the evacuated population from the storm and quarantined population due to COVID-19. There is great need for hygiene supplies and different types of medicines.

Many families live on the banks of rivers and/or in crowded and poorly structured housing; therefore, the vulnerabilities of these populations at risk are exacerbated, generating the following main humanitarian needs: food, WASH, shelters, psychosocial support, health services, and cash transfers to recover their means of life.

Capacity

The members of the ACT Alliance in El Salvador are currently active, monitoring the development of the Tropical Storm and are in contact with authorities, partners and other NGOs in preparation to respond. The ACT Forum in El Salvador is currently composed of Salvadorian Lutheran Synod and Asociación Cristiana de Educación y Desarrollo (ALFALIT), and a number of international members. It has experience in humanitarian response since 1998 and has effectively responded to multiple emergencies, such as: the Mitch Hurricane and other storms, 3 severe earthquakes, frequent droughts, etc.

The Forum also has experience in the application of ACT standards of response, including the Code of Conduct, accountability measures, internal and external evaluations, and continued training on the implementation of projects as well as the appropriate presentation of RRFs and appeals. Through its members, it has presence in 12 departments of El Salvador, and a strong coordination with grassroots organizations and leaders at the community level.

Coordination

The El Salvador Forum has agreed to appoint the Salvadorian Lutheran Synod as the Project Coordinator, according to its current role of Forum coordinator as well.

Implementation arrangements

The members of the ACT Forum, either directly or through their partners, will implement the Project. They will coordinate with local authorities in each municipality of intervention and with community leaders to ensure a transparent and efficient delivery. A Coordination Committee with representatives of ALFALIT and Synod Lutheran Salvadorian will be established for the oversight of activities; which will meet monthly and secure the timely preparation of financial and narrative reports.
